

» A SPLASH OF COLOUR FOR MONAPINK

First time exhibitor MonaPink is set to showcase its single earring enamelled collection Luminous. Aimed at consumers who love the on-trend asymmetrical look, the new designs have been carefully crafted by the designer behind the brand (Monika Kamycka) in her environmentally-friendly studio using 100% recycled argentium silver combined with the ancient plique-à-jour enamelling technique.

Stand R54

» RACHEL GALLEY SHINES

British jewellery designer Rachel Galley has an extensive selection of new pieces and collections to show visitors, including additions to bestselling collections Globe, Allegro and Wrap. New jewels cater for a variety of consumers, with the designer covering everything from simple, wearable pieces that can be added to current collections, to some real statement showstoppers featuring latticework and an introduction of gemstones.

» CHUPI CHARMS

Irish brand Chupi will introduce signature creations in solid 14ct gold and launch additions to its popular gold-plated and silver lines as it makes its debut at the show. This is the first time Chupi has offered solid gold options in yellow, white or rose, and the brand will be unveiling six delicate and stylish ranges including Crown of Love, which is adorned with tiny grey diamonds, and Hope & Magic, which features twig designs. Stars also remain a source of inspiration.

Stand R40

» EMER ROBERTS

Irish jewellery designer Emer Roberts will showcase her current 30 piece fine jewellery collection of rings, bracelets, pendants, necklaces and earrings, alongside sterling silver and 9 carat gold sculptural pieces which maintain clean and bold lines throughout. Roberts will also launch her new architectural links bracelets and necklaces at IJL 2017, which have been designed for men but are inherently classic to suit women also.

Stand Q90D

» CHARLOTTE LOWE LOCKS UP

When Charlotte Lowe Jewellery first launched back in 2009 the designs were described as the modern-day locket. This September the brand will be going back to its roots and expanding on this concept with a new range that allows customers to combine their favourite pieces with their beloved photographs. IJL will see the launch of the Locket Lovers range; a collection of handmade silver and gold lockets available throughout the brand's family and animal inspired themes.

Stand S65

» LUCY QUARTERMAINE MAKES A SPLASH

Award-winning jewellery designer Lucy Quartermaine will be showcasing her new collections and extension pieces including the Mini Splash range based on the brand's ever-popular Splash series. The small editions include four pieces which have been designed to be worn everyday and sit subtly against the skin. The jewels replicate the splash of water droplets as they fall and are available in highly polished solid sterling silver.

Stand R108

» MARIA DORAI RAJ PLAYS IT COOL

Maria Dorai Raj is a contemporary fine jewellery line. Designed for the modern woman, the brand's jewellery is confident and strong while retaining a sleek femininity. At IJL Maria Dorai Raj will showcase four ranges – Plexus, Linear, Celestial and Shard – and launch a new capsule collection. Ranges feature sculptural silhouettes with bold textures, sharp geometric lines and soft, elegant curves. Each piece is designed and crafted by the designer in Ireland.

Stand P78

» CORNERSTONE CREATIONS PLANTS SEEDS

Cornerstone Creations is continuing to expand on its contemporary core collections for AW17 by introducing elements of 18ct yellow gold vermeil to add vivid warm contrast to the rhodium plated silver. The brand will also be launching the Seed collection, which comprises of earrings, necklaces and a bracelet. Seed is a classic stylish range which will initially be launched in rhodium plated silver with the signature Paul Spurgeon contrasting satin and polished finish as seen throughout their designs.

Stand S60

